NEWS FLASH!

It has been (not so) widely reported that a gang of grape thieves has struck at the vineyards of Tahbilk, an Historic winery located in Nag-ambie, Victoria on 20th March 2010.

According to eye witness reports, this "Gang" was easily identified by the black equipment slung around their necks which looked ominously like weapons capable of multiple exposure, and they travelled in a convoy of Vans.

Photographic proof of the "grape raids" has been obtained from an anonymous source, and weeks later these bandits remain at large - they are considered "Armed" with Canons & Nikons, but not Dangerous. Management at the Winery have not made a formal complaint in regards to the incident as the "Gang" later made wine purchases in the Cellar Door - no doubt to create confusion and cover their tracks. If you recognise any of these individuals, DO NOT report them to Crime Stoppers. Just ask if they had FUN!!!!

SUNDAY 18TH APRIL - GULF STATION FAMILY PICNIC

We had 16 adults and 3 children join us at Gulf Station for the day. The weather was perfect and people just wandered around happily. There was much to see and do, and lots of photo opportunities. We gathered together in the shade of the Orchard for lunch, then returned to the activities and more photos, before heading home at will. It was great!
